

Collaboration with the 'University of cooperative education'

RTL II, our German TV channel based in Munich, has a collaboration with the 'Berufsakademie Ravensburg' (University of Cooperative Education).

The study course 'Medien- und Kommunikationswirtschaft / Verlage-Rundfunk-Werbung' lasts six semesters, each divided into a theory part at the university and a hands-on part at the company. The theoretical parts at the university are always followed by exams and a practical thesis.

To complete their studies and receive their 'Diplom-Betriebswirt/-in (BA)' the students write one scientific thesis and one practice-oriented term paper, and pass the final exams. The degree is equivalent to the accredited degree you receive at a state-run university of applied sciences.
